

Hint

When counting coins, it is usually easier to start with the coin with the greatest value and count on to the coin with the least value.