

Automaticity means to do the ability to do things without thinking, allowing it to become an automatic response pattern or habit. It is usually the result of learning, repetition, and practice.