

Hint

What does the box connected to the outer rays mean? How can you use that information to determine the value of d ?