Mapping is a visual representation of a relation or of a pairing of inputs with outputs. Arrows connect inputs to corresponding outputs. It can be used to quickly determine if a relation is a function. Data from a mapping can also be represented graphically in a table or as a set of ordered pairs.