

Standard decimal form is how a number is written without the powers of 10. For example, 3.45×10^3 written in standard form is 3,450. 4.67×10^{-4} written in standard form is 0.000467.