

Income is the money earned for working and money received for the sale of goods or property.