Possible Solutions

This figure has only one line of symmetry because the left side could be folded directly over the right side.

This figure has multiple lines of symmetry, left over right, top over bottom, and diagonal half over diagonal half.

This figure has no lines of symmetry because there is no exact match from any direction.