

Real numbers are the numbers people use every day which include the set of rational and irrational numbers.