Hint

In order to translate a linear relationship from a verbal statement to a graph or a table, you first must choose values for the independent variable, $x$. Use the values of the independent variable to calculate the values for the dependent variable, $y$. 